[Taipei, Taiwan] Taiwan's President Chen Shui-bian met with members of the 2005 Formosa Ambassadors today in Taipei. The Ambassadors, several of them Taiwanese Americans and one American, briefed the President on their efforts lobbying members of Congress to support Taiwan.

President Chen Shui-bian unveiled a new theory yesterday on what he called the four stages of the Republic of China, saying that it was important to give future generations a clear idea of national identity and Taiwan's sovereignty.
